

ServSafe® Manager's Certification Course

This course is a detailed study of food safety procedures and prevention of foodborne illnesses. Developed by The National Restaurant Association Educational Foundation, this Hazard Analysis and Critical Control Points based course gives participants national, state and local recognition as certified in food safety. The ServSafe® Manager course is an approved course to meet the criteria for the Ohio Department of Health's Level II certification.

The investment of $229 per participant (or a team of up to 6 for a group rate of $1,149) includes the development and delivery of training, as well as materials and exam fee.

If a participant is not successful in the first attempt at the examination, there is an option to re-test and would require the purchase of another exam seat voucher with guided facilitation. The fee would be an additional $116 per participant.

This program and other cost-effective training opportunities may also be offered at your site, at any of the four COTC campuses (Newark, Mt. Vernon, Pataskala, Coshocton), or at another chosen location.

Advanced scheduling is required.

It is the commitment and charge of the Workforce Development Innovation Center at COTC to improve the skills of the workforce and to grow economic development in Ohio; providing a competitive edge and furthering the mission of COTC “to meet the technical education and training needs of students and employers in the area.”
